

Comprehensive Privacy Notice

INTRODUCTION

This notice applies to Paysafe Group Limited and its group companies, which sometimes use trading names including Paysafe, paysafecard, Payolution, Skrill and Neteller. The list of Paysafe companies that collect personal information according to this notice can be found below. The reference to Paysafe (including “we”, “us” or “our”) includes the above companies and all relevant group affiliates. Paysafe is committed to protecting your privacy and will take all appropriate steps to ensure that your personal information is treated securely and will be collected, used, stored and disclosed in accordance with this notice.

References to “you” in this notice are to the individual who is accessing or applying to use the Paysafe Services (as defined below) either on your own account or on behalf of a business. This includes, in relation to a customer or prospective customer of Paysafe, any sole trader and any principals, including the managing and financial directors, any other directors and officers, shareholders, partners and beneficial owners of a customer, as well as any member of staff accessing or using the Paysafe Services on behalf of a customer.

This notice (together with our terms of use applying to any specific services you may purchase or use) applies:

- to the website/portal features and services provided to you when you visit our websites, portals or our payment panels our clients may use on their websites;
- when you apply to use and/or use Paysafe’s products and services (including any loyalty or reward schemes, whether points-based or otherwise (“Loyalty” or “Promotion”));
- to your use of software including terminals, mobile and desktop applications provided by Paysafe; and
- to email, other electronic messages including SMS, telephone, web chat, website/portal and other communications between you and Paysafe.

Together these are all referred to in this notice as “Paysafe Services”.

Please read this notice carefully to understand our policies and practices regarding your personal information and how we will treat it. Paysafe takes a “layered approach” to explaining its privacy practices, as recommended by regulators. This means that we endeavor to initially provide you with the key privacy information in the form of a “short form” privacy notice. This, however, is our comprehensive privacy notice that explains our data protection practices in full, and to which the short form privacy notice will link. Contact Us details are provided at the end of the notice for feedback or any privacy enquiries you may have.

INFORMATION WE MAY COLLECT FROM YOU

We may monitor or record telephone calls, emails, web chat or other communications with you for regulatory, security, quality assurance or training purposes. When visiting our offices, CCTV, access control systems and/or other monitoring systems may be in operation for security reasons and for health and safety management purposes.

WHERE WE STORE YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION

We, our service providers, and other parties with whom we may share your personal information (as described above) may process your personal information in territories that are outside the European Economic Area ("EEA") or otherwise outside of the territory in which you reside. It may also be processed by staff operating outside the EEA or the territory in which they were collected who work for us or one of our suppliers. Such staff may be engaged in, among other things, the fulfilment of orders, the processing of payment details and support services in provision of the Paysafe Services. These countries may have data protection standards that are different to (and, in some cases, lower than) those in which you reside.

In these circumstances, we will take appropriate steps to protect your personal information in accordance with this privacy notice and applicable data protection laws; including through the use of any appropriate safeguards required by law to ensure that any international data transfers are lawful. Paysafe generally uses “Model Clauses” as approved by the European Commission when contracting with third party data recipients outside the EEA who are receiving data from within the EEA for the purpose of processing personal information transferred outside the EEA. Occasionally, when the recipient is located in the United States, we may use the Privacy Shield with companies that have joined that scheme.

HOW WE KEEP YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION SECURE

We have implemented measures designed to secure your personal information from accidental loss and from unauthorized access, use, alteration and disclosure.

The safety and security of your information is also dependent upon you. If we have given you (or if you have chosen) a password or access code for access to certain parts of our website/portal or mobile applications and similar, you are responsible for keeping this password and/or access code confidential. You must not share your password and/or access code with anyone. You must ensure that there is no unauthorized use of your password and access code. Paysafe will act upon instructions and information received from any person that enters your user id and password and you understand that you are fully responsible for all use and any actions that may take place during the use of your account. You must promptly notify Paysafe of any information you have provided to us which has changed.

The transmission of information via the internet is not completely secure. Although we will do our best to protect your personal information, we cannot guarantee the security of your information transmitted to our site, unless you are communicating with us through a secure channel that we have provided. Once we have received your information, we will use strict procedures and security features to try to prevent unauthorized access.

HOW LONG WE RETAIN YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION

The periods for which we retain your personal information are determined based on the nature and type of information, the Paysafe Service and the country in which they are provided as well as any applicable local legal or regulatory requirements. In general, once no longer needed, your information will be deleted, or we may anonymise or aggregate it with other information to make it non-personal.

If you use the Paysafe Services, we will retain your personal information as long as necessary to provide you with the services of your choice. That would generally mean we retain your personal information as long as you are our customer and for a period of time afterwards.

When our relationship with you ends, we still need to retain certain of your personal information for a time that depends on the legal and regulatory requirements of the country where you are located. For example, we will retain your information for the time allowed by the local laws to start a legal claim (so called “statute of limitation”), or for as long as we are ordered pursuant to on an order from the courts, or by law enforcement agencies or our regulators.

We can also continue sending you direct marketing, subject with local laws and where you have not objected to such marketing.

YOUR DATA PROTECTION RIGHTS

You have many rights that you can exercise in relation to your personal information. If you wish you can access, correct, or update your personal information. In certain circumstances, you can also ask us to delete your personal information, object to its processing or temporarily restrict its processing while exercising your other rights. In addition, you can request to transfer certain of your personal information to another service provider (so called, data portability).

When you give us consent to use your personal information, you can withdraw it any time. Withdrawing your consent will not affect the lawfulness of any processing we conducted prior to your withdrawal, nor will it affect processing of your personal information conducted in reliance on lawful processing grounds other than consent. For example, you can stop any marketing communication we send you by clicking on the “unsubscribe” or “opt-out” link in the communications you receive, or according to the instructions that we provide every time, but we will continue to send you operational or service messages in relation to your Paysafe Services.

Please consider that, depending on the country from where you use the Paysafe Services, not all the above rights may be available to you. Also, there might be cases where these rights cannot be enforced: for example, you cannot object to us using your information when it is required by the law, or to manage a complaint; similarly you cannot ask us to delete your information if you want to continue using our Paysafe Services.

You always have the right to complain to a data protection authority about our collection and use of your personal information. For more information, please contact your local data protection authority. Also, you can commence a court action to claim compensation for damage or distress caused by our failure to comply with data protection legislation.

If you want to know more about your rights, or you want to exercise them, you can reach us at the details provided in the Contact Us section.

AUTOMATED DECISION MAKING

In some instances, our use of your personal information may result in automated decisions being taken (including profiling) that legally affect you or similarly significantly affect you.

Automated decisions mean that a decision concerning you is made automatically on the basis of a computer determination (using software algorithms), without our human review. For example, we use automated decisions to complete credit assessments on you when you apply to certain Paysafe Services or to carry out anti-fraud checks, as explained in the section “What We Use Your Personal Information For”. We have implemented measures to safeguard the rights and interests of individuals whose personal information is subject to automated decision-making. In addition, if you are using the Paysafe Services in the European Union, when we make an automated decision about you, you have the right to contest the decision, to express your point of view, and to require a human review of the decision. You can exercise this right by contacting us at the details below.

LEGAL BASIS FOR PROCESSING

Paysafe will only process your personal information where we have lawful authority to do so. Such laws vary across different territories and further specific information is available on request. In general, Paysafe will either process:

- On the basis of your consent, for example to send you marketing messages about products and services in accordance with your interests and preferences;
- Where necessary for the performance of, or entry into, any contract we have with you, for example in order to provide you with the Paysafe Services you have subscribed;
- Where Paysafe has a legitimate interest to process data, subject to such processing not overriding your own rights and freedoms in objecting to such processing, for example to keep you informed about your use of the services, improve and develop our services and manage and enforce any claim;
- Where Paysafe has a legal obligation to collect your personal information or otherwise needs your personal information to protect your vital interests or those of another person. For example, when necessary to comply with the rules imposed by our regulators; or
- Exceptionally, we may share your information with a third party when necessary in the public interest, for example when law enforcement agencies request information to investigate a crime.

If you have questions about or need further information concerning the legal basis on which we collect and use your personal information for any specific processing activity, please contact us using the contact details provided under the Contact Us section below.

The date the privacy notice was last modified is at the bottom of the page. You are responsible for ensuring you periodically visit our website/portal and this privacy notice to check for any changes. However, if we are required by law to give you enhanced notice of any changes to this privacy notice and/or seek your consent to changes in our uses of your personal information, then we will do so.

Our site may, from time to time, contain links to and from the websites of our partner networks, advertisers and affiliates. If you follow such a link, please note that these websites have their own privacy and cookies policies and Paysafe does not accept any responsibility or liability for these third party websites.
